RAILWAY GUIDES.—We have received from Morris, D. B. Cooks & Co., of Chicago, three beautiful maps of the railroads in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, completed and in course of construction. They also show the street stations and their distances from the principal cities in each State respectively. In fact, the distances are given from Indianapolis, St. Louis, from Chicago; and in Ohio from Cincinnati. Each map has an index of the different stations, so that they can be found without any trouble.

THEATRE.—The performances at the theatre to-night are Charles the Twelfth and Lord Darby.

THE NEWCAST (Ind.) paper gives the following account of disasters on the river during the storm on Sunday last:

A flatboat owned by Messrs. Johnson, William and James, Grand Island park and company, was in a damaged condition. A crew consisting of Mr. Chamberlain, two workmen belonging to Mr. H. H. Hargrave, and another belonging to Mr. Johnson, were on board. They were about half a mile from the shore when a large lightning bolt struck the boat, killing all but one. The survivors were severely injured.

FINANCIAL.—The New York Post of Wednesday evening states that the Bank of Kentucky had a loss of $100,000 on its investment in the Bank of Louisville, which had the appearance of being issued by the Bank of Kentucky. It is stated that the bank, by which it can be easily distinguished, had a balance of $100,000.

CONTRACTOR OF THE DEMONSTRATION of $5,000,000, the Northwest Bank of Virginia, purposing to be payable at Westerville, letter A. is in circulation. The counterfeiter is mainly a仿 of the genuine note of that date, but is a sixteenth part of an inch shorter and one-eighth inch narrower than the genuine. General suspicion goes to some of the engravers in either course. Paper also coarse and rather cloudy. It was well calculated to impress those who are not familiar with the paper, which has a dark, mottled, paper texture, and by the scarcely apparent of the mediation work to the corners of the bill.

INDIANA FIRE BANKS.—The Indianapolis Journal of yesterday says:

The Indiana Fire Bank, a large bank of good character, which was the only one in Indianapolis to have the appearance of being issued by the Bank of Kentucky. It is stated that the bank, by which it can be easily distinguished, had a balance of $100,000.
